Rammie and Ewie were raising money to buy sports equipment for local schools. Professor Smarty-pants promised them £50, if they cleaned his laboratory. While working, they came across a fascinating machine.

"We must clean inside there!" said nosy Ewie.

Rammie accidentally knocked a lever. The machine shuddered, and a moment later, they were in prehistoric times. It was a time machine! Looking around, they encountered Charge, a velociraptor, who gave them a map to a huge haul of gold.

"It's easy to get lost in this forest, let me give you a ride to the other side," offered Brian, a friendly brontosaurus. Gratefully, they climbed up onto his enormous back.

4 In a desert, Trixie, a kind triceratops, showed them a watering-hole and looked at the map.

"This leads to the cave where Sharp, the evil stegosaurus, lives," she warned. "There, you'll have to answer three riddles. If you get one wrong, Sharp locks you in a cage. Please, help the dinosaurs he's already trapped! Take this amulet and remember this magic word: teamwork!"

5 Rammie had no trouble with the first riddle but would never have solved the second one without Ewie's help.

Then, Sharp snarled, "Which dinosaur has sharp spikes?"

"Easy – it's YOU!" they said together. The amulet glowed. "TEAMWORK!" the heroes shouted. All the cages snapped open.

6 The freed dinosaurs were happy to help them carry the treasure back to the time machine. Now, they could buy loads of new kit for the kids!

Rammie and Ewie's adventure

One day Ramie and Ewie decided to go on an adventure but first they had to get supplies to live like food and drink. When they got the supplies they went outside and walked to the forest. It took about ten minutes and when they got there they took a water break. After they took a water break they started to walk and look for some animals, they hoped they would see a fox a swan or a wolf. They started to get very tired so they looked for the next bench to sit down on, and found a fox just strolling around.

Rammie asked Ewie if he could go for a second and feed the fox. Rammie got his bag and looked for his chicken in his sandwich, when he found the chicken he went over to the fox. When he got to the fox he stroked him and fed him the chicken and said "good boy", then left him alone. Rammie went back to Ewie and said "let's keep going" so Ewie said "ok". They were looking for more animals, they were hoping especially they would see a blue bird. I guess they have good luck because a blue bird came on their shoulder and they both looked at each other because they were shocked. Rammie and Ewie realized the bluebird was showing something so they followed the bird and found a land of animals. They were friendly, they became good friends and then they all agreed to have a photo to keep forever.

Rammie and Ewie: match

One day Rammie and Ewie went shopping because their ball had popped on Ewies horns. At the shop was a man who ordered a pro-metallic football. When he left the shop, Rammie sneakily raced after him. Ewie tried to protest but eventually followed.

The man's van was filled with sports equipment. Rammie jumped in. Ewie was scared but Rammie persuaded her to jump in too. Soon the van's doors shut and it began to move. Rammie practised shooting with Ewie until the van stopped.

They were at a Football Stadium in Wales. The man didn't see them. He took out a keycard and scanned it on a door at the side of the stadium. The man took the metallic football and other equipment and chucked it on the gym floor ready for a big secret match. It was time to introduce themselves.

They confessed that they had followed the shiny ball to be able to play with it. The professionals refused to let them play in the match. Ewie remembered that in lockdown mountain goats were taking over Wales.

"If you let us play we'll clear the streets of goats." said Ewie.

"Deal!" said the footballers.

After an hour the opposing team gave up and Rammie and Ewie's team won. They got to keep a shiny foot ball and a trophy. On their way back they herded the goats back up the mountains and were greeted warmly back in derby.
