Family, friends and visitors

At Exemplar, families and friends are part of day to day life in our homes.

From the early stages, where we work together to plan care and agree goals and outcomes, loved ones are always welcome - whether it's for a visit, to attend a party or event or to head into the community for trips and outings.

Life at Copperfields

At Exemplar homes, we support service users to take part in the activities leisure interests and hobbies they enjoy – and wherever possible, to develop new interests. The team at Copperfields supports service users to achieve their individual goals and to make choices about how they live their lives, their hobbies and interests and where appropriate, access to education and volunteering. Working together with families, friends, multi-disciplinary therapists, care and support workers and most importantly, the service users themselves, each individual is supported to lead the most fulfilling and independent life available to them.

As a new home, outings and activities will reflect the choices of our service users. Like all Exemplar homes, Copperfields offers good transport links and a location that enables residents to enjoy a life at the heart of the community. Service users are encouraged to find their favourite local service including pubs, restaurants, leisure services, cinemas, shops and public transport. An accessible minibus means there is always transport available for socialising and outings.

I'm delighted that we have opened another home in Leeds. Copperfields joins Exemplar's existing Leeds home, Ravensdale in Whinmoor, to provide specialist nursing care for people living in West Yorkshire.

Copperfields specialises in care for younger adults living with mental ill-health and complex dementia. I'm incredibly proud to be part of the exciting new team and can't wait to support residents from across West Yorkshire and beyond.”

Sharon Burton, Commissioning Home Director.
